A pharmacist can come to your home.

Your doctor has suggested a Home Medicines Review. Here is what that actually means.

What happens

An accredited pharmacist visits you at home for about an hour and goes through every medicine in the house with you, including the ones you have stopped and anything you buy yourself. Then they write to your doctor.

What it costs

Nothing. There is no gap, no booking fee and no travel charge. You need a current Medicare or DVA card.

What to have ready

- All your tablets, capsules and liquids
- Inhalers, patches, creams, eye drops and injections
- Vitamins, supplements and anything from the supermarket
- Anything you have stopped or only take now and then
- Your Webster pack or dosette box, if you use one

Please don't tidy up. A normal day is more useful to us than a tidy one.

Will my medicines be changed? No. The pharmacist writes to your doctor with what they found. Nothing changes unless your doctor decides it should.

Is it a scam? No. We will always name the practice that referred you, and we never ask for bank details or payment. There is nothing to pay at any stage.

Can I say no? Yes, at any point, and it changes nothing about your care.
